I highly recommend the 6 month retreat program at Creacon as there were so many wonderful and enlightening benefits that I experienced on a personal level. One of the biggest things I noticed was a release from my past that restricted me and prevented me from moving forward in my life. Judgments around my past kept me hidden and afraid to move forward – but with the nurturing energy of Creacon I began to move forward by releasing my negative thought patterns and judgments. There was so much support at Creacon which allowed me to move forward.

While here there were incredible opportunities to work with Derek and to sit in and part-take in very high level teachings. I noticed a shift not only in myself and my attachments to material things but also in my relationships with people. The more I detached, the easier it was to feel love as the neediness of attached relationships was gone. As I continue to work on this – the benefits are amazing as it frees me up to move forward in life with limitless potentials.

Another incredible learning experience was to learn to work in cooperation – as a team, particularly with other members of the long term retreat program as we lived together and worked together 24/7 for 6 months. While challenges were brought up, we all learned the valuable lessons of speaking our truth, becoming aware of our projections and standing in our power. So realizing everyone and every situation is there for our enlightenment – working through any issues became part of the process in moving forward. As these issues began to clear the challenges of working together began to disappear and it became a more joyful process to work together as One.

I have noticed that now the simple things in life seem to have an all new energy. I often feel a childlike quality of excitement and I feel so grateful for everyone in my life, as well as the experiences I had to go through to get me this far. The discipline that I integrated at Creacon has helped me to focus on being Still while my life unfolds around me. The inner stillness and peace I am now able to access has set an incredible tone of hopefulness in me, in which I feel that I have a place to go home to when things get stirred up in the outside world – or my inside world. I am grateful for these opportunities – has my past was limited by my negative thought patterns – and my future has great potential to be open and free...

I am also so grateful for the opportunity of partaking in several More Truth Will Set You Free Workshops as well as many other wonderful workshops that were held while at Creacon. I have noticed a wonderful expansion in consciousness as well as in my intuitive abilities. Life seems to have taken on a whole other quality and dimension.

Spending time in meditation was also a huge gift of freedom to which I was able to connect at a much deeper place in my heart...

And so while there are so many benefits of being at Creacon these are just but a few that I may express to recommend the amazing opportunities of the 6 month program...

In Love and Gratitude,

Kathy
